Criminal Convictions (to be completed by all students)

21.

If you are applying for a professional course (e.g. teaching, health, social work and other courses involving work with children and/or vulnerable adults), you must declare ANY spent or unspent criminal convictions, including cautions, warnings and reprimands AND / OR any offences for which you have been charged, excluding speeding offences. If you are not applying for a professional course, you are required to declare whether you have any unspent criminal convictions, including conditional cautions, discharges, community sentences and fines but excluding speeding offences.

Do you have any criminal convictions? Yes No

Please note that having a criminal conviction will not necessarily prevent you from studying at Brunel University. For further information, please see our Admissions Policy at www.brunel.ac.uk/courses/ug/admissions_office/admissions. If you are convicted of a criminal offence after you have applied, you must tell Brunel International immediately.

NOTES

- If you are not sure whether to tell us about a previous conviction, you should seek legal advice.
- If you are convicted of a criminal offence after you have applied, you must let us know immediately.
- If you are serving a prison sentence, you must select 'Yes'. You must also give the prison address as your postal address and a Senior Prison Officer must support your application.

Disclosure of Information

22.

Brunel University may wish to forward your application to academic partners for further consideration. If you do not wish Brunel University to disclose this information please indicate here.
