Important information to read before accepting an offer

In addition to the contractual information sections contained in the prospectus such as course descriptions and financial and general information, and the obligations published here, your place with the University will be subject to the terms and conditions stated in our offer letter to you as well as also being subject to our Statutes, Council Ordinances and Senate Regulations and all University rules, policies and procedures from time to time in force (together our “terms”). Some of these documents may be accessed at:

www.brunel.ac.uk/about/administration

Alternatively, copies of all documents can be obtained upon request from the University’s Quality and Standards Office. Your place will also be conditional upon you registering with the University, paying fees when due, meeting any offer conditions we advise to you in writing (such as qualifications required) and all necessary legal and other requirements to study here on the chosen course (such as criminal record checks, previous conviction details, health checks, immigration clearance and so on).

When you accept an offer of a place by the University, a legal contract is formed with the University on the basis of the terms and may be ended by the University if the relevant conditions are not met or our terms not complied with. The contract is governed by English law and subject to the jurisdiction of the English courts.

Please note that any living accommodation provided to you by the University (or any other party) will be subject to a separate contract and payment of accommodation fees under that separate contract. In entering into the contract, neither the student nor the University intends that any of the terms of the contract will be enforceable by any person not a party to it, by virtue of the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.

If you have any queries regarding our terms or any relevant conditions, or would like to receive hard copies of any of the documents referred to above, please contact the University’s Quality and Standards Office. For a full summary of the University’s Terms and Conditions see:

www.brunel.ac.uk/about-this-website/terms
DISCLAIMER

The University makes all reasonable efforts to deliver the programmes of study, research opportunities and other services and facilities described in this publication and other University documents. However, the University is entitled, if it reasonably considers it to be necessary (including in order to manage its resources and pursue its policy of continuous improvement appropriately):

• to suspend or discontinue programmes of study (for example, because a key member of staff is unwell or leaves the University);
• to make reasonable variations to the content and syllabus of programmes of study (including in relation to placements);
• to alter the timetable, location, number of classes and method of delivery of programmes of study, provided such alterations are reasonable; to make changes to the statutes, ordinances, regulations, policies and procedures that the University reasonably considers necessary (for example, in the light of changes in the law or the requirements of the University’s regulators);
• to combine programmes of study if the University reasonably considers this to be necessary (for example, because too few students apply to join a programme for it to be viable). In the unlikely event that the University discontinues or does not provide a programme of study or changes it significantly before it begins:

• the University will tell relevant individuals at the earliest possible opportunity;
• an individual will be entitled to withdraw his or her application by telling the University in writing;
• the University will make an appropriate refund of tuition fees and deposits paid.

The University will provide students with such tuition, learning support and other services and facilities as it considers appropriate, and with reasonable care and skill, but may vary what it provides from time to time (for example, the University may consider it desirable to change the way it provides library or IT support). The University will not be liable to you for any representations or descriptions in this prospectus, or in any other University documents, and/or made to you verbally, unless and to the extent confirmed in the terms as outlined above. The terms contain the entire agreement between you and the University in relation to you being a student at the University.

Nothing in the summary of terms including this disclaimer excludes any liability which it would be unlawful to exclude. The University will not be liable to you in any manner whatsoever for any failure or delay, or for the consequences of any failure or delay, in performance of any contract with you if it is due to any event beyond our reasonable control including, without limitation, strikes, lockouts or other industrial action or disputes (whether involving our workforce or any other party), acts of God, pandemic, quarantine or widespread illness (whether affecting our staff and/or student body or otherwise), governmental requisitioning, emergency planning or provision, war, protests, fire, flood, storm, tempest, explosion, an actual, suspected or threatened act of terrorism, riot, civil commotion, national emergencies, breakdown of plant or machinery, or default of suppliers or sub-contractors.
RELIGIOUS FESTIVALS
The University tries, where at all possible, to accommodate students’ wishes in observing religious festivals during examination periods.

DIVERSE BRUNEL (EQUALITY AND DIVERSITY STATEMENT)
Brunel University London values inclusiveness and confirms its continuing commitment to the principles of equality and diversity in employment, admission, and in its teaching, learning and research activities. The University endeavours to ensure that all members of staff, students, visitors and applicants for employment or study are treated on the basis of their merits and abilities and that no one suffers discrimination or disadvantage because of their race, age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage or civil partnership, pregnancy or maternity, religion or belief (including lack of belief), sex and sexual orientation.

In order to achieve an environment that is free from unlawful discrimination and which encourages everyone to contribute fully to its work the University will endeavour to ensure that it:

• eliminates discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct that is prohibited by or under the Equality Act 2010;

• advances equality of opportunity and fosters good relations between people who share a relevant protected characteristic and people who do not share it by:
  • removing or minimising disadvantages suffered by staff and students and taking steps to meet their needs;
  • encouraging staff and students to participate in public life or in any other activity in which participation is disproportionately low;
  • tackling prejudice and promoting understanding within the University.

For a copy of the University’s Equality and Diversity Statement and its supporting policies, visit: www.brunel.ac.uk/about/administration/equality-and-diversity

All registered students are covered by the University’s insurance for accidents that occur on campus. However, the University cannot accept responsibility for loss of, or any form of damage to, personal belongings of students.

ANTI-HARASSMENT STATEMENT
The University is committed to an inclusive working, studying and living environment that is free from discrimination, intimidation and in which dignity and respect are paramount. The University takes any issue of harassment, victimisation and discrimination seriously and would not tolerate, from any member of staff, student or third party, language(s) or behaviour(s) that are deemed to be offensive and/or discriminatory against its members of staff or students.

How to find us

The Brunel University campus is in Uxbridge, on the western edge of London. It is a short drive from the M4, M40 and M25 and has the added benefit of being part of the London Underground network. There are also a number of bus routes running close to the campus.

As part of Brunel’s commitment to sustainability, we have implemented a Travel Plan, one of the key aims of which is to reduce our carbon footprint by enabling students and staff to travel to the campus by alternative means with less dependency on cars.

Please use the maps on the following pages to help you find your way to Brunel, around the local area and around the campus.

BY UNDERGROUND

Uxbridge Station is approximately one mile from the campus and you should allow an hour for travel between central London (Baker Street) and Uxbridge on the Metropolitan Line. The Piccadilly Line also serves Uxbridge, but allow an extra half hour if using this line. Uxbridge bus station is on the right as you come through the underground turnstiles and the bus journey time to Brunel is about 10 minutes off peak and 15 minutes at peak times. See the next page for bus routes.

Trains run from London Paddington or the West (Bristol) to West Drayton. Catch the 222, U1 or the U3 bus to campus (see the next page for bus information).
