23. EDUCATIONAL AIMS OF THE PROGRAMME

The overall aim of the MSc in Public Health and Health Promotion (online) is for students to gain advanced skills, principles and knowledge in public health and health promotion whilst also developing a critical and multidisciplinary approach to the complexities of public health and health promotion challenges and possibilities. The programme reflects the multidisciplinary nature of public health and health promotion and includes health policy, politics, sociology, psychology, and advanced academic and research skills. A key feature of the programme is to promote active learning and a research led approach to public health and health promotion and provides students with an opportunity to conduct their own piece of empirical research.

Aims of the programme are to:

- investigate the scope and nature of contemporary public health and health promotion at the local, national and global levels, focusing on its development, current priorities and future challenges
- explore the major determinants of health and explore ways to promote public health and health promotion that address social and economic inequalities, are culturally sensitive, and promote values of social justice
- build knowledge and skills in reflective practice, research, communication, transferable skills and working in online groups

- develop knowledge and skills in the principles of using a variety of types of evidence, including researching, analysing and evaluating health information, research and policy
- explore multidisciplinary approaches to public health and health promotion
- examine ethical, political, societal and cultural dilemmas that arise in public health and health promotion
- provide the opportunity to conduct an empirical research project on a contemporary issue associated with public health and health promotion

24. PROGRAMME AND INTERMEDIATE LEARNING OUTCOMES

The programme provides opportunities for students to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding (K) cognitive (thinking) skills (C) and other skills and attributes (S) in the following areas:

FHEQ Level	Category (K = knowledge and understanding, C = cognitive (thinking) skills, S = other skills and attributes)	Learning Outcome	Masters Award Only	Associated Assessment Blocks Code(s)	Associated Study Blocks Code(s)	Associated Modular Blocks Code(s)

Learning/teaching strategies and methods to enable learning outcomes to be achieved, including formative assessments

The programme adopts learning and teaching strategies that promote independent learning on a digital learning platform. Students are expected to take responsibility for identifying their learning needs and accessing appropriate learning resources online. The development of transferable and employability skills are embedded within the programme.

All modular blocks will be delivered via digital platform. A combination of online texts, videos, interactive activities including discussion/chat and quizzes with personal study expected throughout. Typically, online texts and videos set out the key context, which provide underpinning theory, identify issues of debate and point to further evidence, resources and critical debate. Online discussions/chats are structured to facilitate discussion, explore further learning and promote critical thinking, including sound, evidence-based reasoning, appropriate to enable achievement of Masters level academic outcomes.

The student is expected to increasingly become self-directed in researching topics. This combination ensures that learning requires active engagement from the student and has a high experiential component, and that theory is clearly linked in a relevant and meaningful way to learning goals. Reflective learning is recognised as important to the development of understanding, and the significance of linking theory to policy and practice is central. The programme incorporates online teaching and learning tools.

Summative assessment strategies and methods to enable learning outcomes to be demonstrated.

The assessment strategy aims to promote meaningful learning at M level. A variety of assessment modes are employed, such as case studies, essays, critical appraisal of published studies, written examinations and a research dissertation. Assessment techniques match the intended learning outcomes. At the start of the programme the students are provided with the assessment schedule including assessment and feedback dates. Each assessment is explained clearly to students; in the programme handbook on the digital learning portal. The assessments draw from learning and teaching across all modular blocks. These assessments are timed at the end of each module.

Each formative and summative assessment provides students with opportunities for feedback to help develop and support their learning. Students also receive ongoing feedback through all teaching and learning opportunities in the discussion/chat and quizzes delivered on digital learning platform. The assessments are designed so that students can demonstrate their developing abilities throughout the programme

The student handbook details the assessment process, relevant regulations and advice.

- Essays and written assignments, reflecting and demonstrating academic skills in written presentation of ideas and arguments, following academic guidelines
- Presentations (e.g. poster, online presentation)
- 3000-5000 word manuscript based on a research project

25. Programme Structure, progression and award requirements

Programme structures and features: levels, assessment blocks, credit and progression and award requirements

- Compulsory block: one which all students registered for the award are required to take as part of their programme of study. These will be listed in the left hand column;
- Optional block: one which students choose from an 'option range'. These will be listed in the right hand column;
- A core assessment is an assessment identified within an assessment block or modular block (either compulsory or optional) which must be passed (at grade C- or better) in order to be eligible to progress and to be eligible for the final award. All core assessments must be specified on the programme specification next to the appropriate assessment or modular block:

Where students are expected to pass the block at C- or better, but not necessarily all elements, then the block itself is core.

e.g. AB5500 Project (40)
Core: Block

Where only some elements of assessments are required to be passed at C- or better, these will be identified by listing each element that is core

e.g. ABXXX1 Title (XX credits)
Core: 1 & 4

Where students are expected to pass all assessments in a block then this will be identified. By setting the assessment this way, students are also required to pass the block by default. This will be identified thus:

e.g. ABXXXX Title (XX credits)
Core: All, Block

- A non-core assessment does not have to be passed at grade C- or better, but must D- or better in order to be eligible for the final award.

FHEQ Level 7
Compulsory assessment block codes, titles and credit	Optional assessment block codes, titles and credits
Compulsory study block codes, titles and credit volume	Optional Study block codes, titles and credit volume
Compulsory modular block codes, titles and credits  HH5626 Global Public Health 15 credits HH5621 Epidemiology 15 credits HH5627 Health Promotion 15 credits HH5628 Health and Society 15 credits HH5622 Health Economics 15 credits HH5625 Health Policy, Politics and Social Justice 15 credits HH5623 Implementing Change in Public Health and Health Promotion 15 credits HH5624 Research Methods 15 credits HH5620 Research Project (the Dissertation) Core: Block 60 credits  Part time structure  Year 1: 6 modules (90 credits) Year 2: remaining 2 modules (30 credits) and Dissertation (60 credits)	Optional modular block codes, titles and credits

FHEQ Level 7 Progression and Award Requirements

As per Senate Regulation 3

PGDip may not be awarded by substitution of the dissertation (HH5620) for modular/assessment blocks in the taught part of the programme.

Please note: this specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if he/she takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information on the learning outcomes, content and teaching, learning and assessment methods can be found in the modular block, assessment and study block outlines and other programme and block information. The accuracy of the information contained in this document is reviewed by the University from time to time and whenever a modification occurs.
